

Bradley Kronz
Goodbye Planet Fashion
13.12 – 7.02.2014

Goodbye Planet Fashion is a show on abstraction and the fantasy of flight. Remove the figure and the horizon line and suddenly the viewer is flying!

Another ascension scheme is turning a single painting into two. The stretcher is available again once it no longer supports the canvas. You can take this stretcher and put something else on it<sup>1</sup>. Additionally, an unstretched painting can become larger, because of the unpainted margins.

A styled object is elevated somehow. With this in mind the paintings and sculptures in this show are styled rather than painted and sculpted.

1. Tape: At times it holds things in place, other times it's just there.