

Aaron Garber-Maikovska, “POSTPARTUM”

Art, Contemporary art

Photograph: Courtesy CLEARING, New York/Brussels

Time Out says

This L.A. artist's practice has included absurdist performances in which he gesticulates in a kind of private sign language that responds to "spiritless places and things" such as "a tree island in a Target parking lot or...a booth at Red Robin." Paintings filled with loopy gestures, are also part of the menu, serving as extension of his performative acts. In this show, his latest gestural canvases (which recall Abstract Expressionism, minus the sturm und drang), are denser and more colorful, becoming standalone works infused with manic energy.

POSTED: MONDAY NOVEMBER 26 2018

Details

Event website:

<http://www.c-l-e-a-r-i-n-g.com>

Event phone:

718-456-0396

Popular on Time Out

The 100 best movies of all time

The 101 best sex scenes of all time

The best things to do in NYC this weekend

The best karaoke songs ever

The best Memorial Day weekend events in NYC

